JOHNNY WONDER

Q. 'WHAT IS CEMENT MADE FROM?'

DAVID GIBSON, OF BROOKVILLE, KY., WINS A PRIZE FOR THIS QUESTION.

A. Cement is made from a mixture of lime, clay, silica, iron and aluminum minerals. To make cement, the materials are fed into a large oven called a kiln. Heat from the kiln changes the materials into marble-sized lumps called "clinker." The clinker is then ground into a fine cement powder. To make concrete, the cement is mixed with crushed rock, sand and water. When the mixture hardens, the materials are bound together in a solid, rock-like mass good for constructing such long-lasting things as concrete sidewalks, highways, bridges, and skyscrapers.

You can win a World Almanac if your question is selected. Send your name and age to JOHNNY WONDER, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1134, Santa Cruz, CA 95061.
